F. Wilkins Property

Dwelling. This early-twentieth-century vernacular dwelling stands on the north side of Skeeter Neck Road and on the far southeastern corner of its lot. The structure has clearly been converted from an outbuilding into a dwelling. It was most likely originally a large garage, one high and wide enough for commercial vehicles. A chimney has been inserted into the steeply-pitched hipped roof and the entire western wall has been filled in with plain concrete block, while the other walls are constructed of rusticated block. The windows are modern vinyl replacements and the presence of plain block around the window openings on the eastern elevation indicates that the sizes of those openings have been modified, perhaps more than once. The three-light hollow-core front door on the façade (southern elevation) appears to date from the mid-twentieth-century, while the three original rusticated walls are more consistent with the post-World War I era, and the windows are new.

Tool shed. At the northeast corner of the house, almost touching its rear wall, is a prefabricated tool shed resting on a wood-slat foundation. The walls and roof are standing seam metal, most of which is quite rusty. The gable-end façade (northern elevation) has a pair of hinged doors; the other elevations are blind.

Historical Background. On November 28, 1925, Arley B. Magee sold the property to the Associated Realty Corporation for an unknown price (KCDB V13: 20). On June 2, 1930, the Associated Realty Corporation sold the property containing 48.0 acres along with "...all that certain tract, piece, or parcel of land and premises...and the dwelling house, stables, and out buildings" to Edward and Ilertdine Hodgson for $6,100 (KCDN V13: 187). On September 22, 1954, Edward and Ilertdine Hodgson conveyed the property containing 40.0 acres to Myra H. McIlvaine (KCDB P20: 191). On September 22, 1954, Myra H McIlvaine conveyed the property to Edwards Hodgson (KCDB P20: 193). On May 6, 1960, Edward and Hattie Hodgson conveyed the property along "...with the improvements thereon erected" to Myra McIlvaine (KCDB H22: 524). On May 6, 1960, Myra McIlvaine conveyed the property along with "...the improvements thereon erected" to Edward and Hattie Hodgson (KCDB H22: 525). On April 6, 1970, Edward and Hattie Hodgson sold the property to Franklin and Lulu Wilkins under the name of Wilkins Realty for $3,300 (KCDB H26: 52). On April 22, 1992, Franklin and Lulu Wilkins conveyed the property to Franklin Wilkins (KCDB H51: 260). A CRS survey form (K-2722) was completed in the early 1980s for an adjacent property to the west; and it is possible that this building was somehow associated with that property, but the buildings surveyed for K-2722 are no longer standing. The current property owner of 3040 Skeeter Neck Road was not available after several field visits for questioning about the history of his residence.

Evaluation. The F. Wilkins Property is recommended not eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places because it does not meet the eligibility criteria established by the National Park Service (NPS 1997). It does not possess all of the necessary qualities necessary to be considered a significant individual dwelling. The resource is an example of a highly-altered, twentieth-century outbuilding converted into a residence within the SR 1 Interchange study area. The resource retains integrity of location, but lacks integrity of setting, design, materials, workmanship, association, and feeling, and is unable to convey its historical or architectural significance. Most importantly, the building which now serves as a residence was probably part of a larger complex in the past, but all the other buildings are no longer standing. The only associated building there today is a modern prefabricated metal shed.

Property-specific and documentary research of the area in general did not reveal any associations between the F. Wilkins Property and significant events or trends. The property is recommended not eligible for listing in the National Register under Criterion A for this reason. Likewise, research did not reveal any associations with significant individuals; therefore, the property is recommended not eligible for listing under Criterion B. The property does not display the distinctive characteristics of a type, style, or method of construction, nor does it represent the work of a master or possess high artistic value; therefore, it is recommended not eligible under Criterion C. Archaeological investigations have not yet been conducted on this property; therefore, the resource's eligibility under Criterion D (potential to yield information important to history or prehistory) cannot be assessed at this time.
