R. Webb Property

Dwelling. This mid-twentieth-century vernacular cottage (built ca. 1952) is the third of three similar homes built on adjoining lots along what is now SR 1. Of the three, it is the smallest, plainest, and least altered. It features an asphalt shingle roof with cross-gable and shed dormers, aluminum siding and trim, aluminum storm windows with fixed shutters, and a concrete block foundation. Many of the windows are the original wood, and the hipped-roof porch on the southern elevation is still open, unlike those of its neighbors to the north. On the three-bay asymmetrical façade (eastern elevation) are the original wood main entrance with an arched surround, a tripartite picture window made up of three six-over-six sash windows of equal width to its south, and an eight-over-eight double-hung sash window to its north.

Garage. Behind the house and to its south sits a gable-front, two-car frame garage built ca. 1955. It has a concrete block foundation on a poured concrete slab, an asphalt shingle roof, and aluminum siding in the gable ends. There are two overhead garage doors on the façade (northern elevation), two six-over-six windows with fixed shutters on the western elevation, and one six-over-six window and a pedestrian entrance on the eastern elevation. The southern elevation is blind.

Historic Background. The R. Webb property located near Frederica, Delaware dates from ca. 1952. In December 1911, William Townsend conveyed the property to Jester A. Gray through the Orphans Court of Kent County (KCDB R2: 300). On July 20, 1916, Jester A. and Sallie B. Gray sold the property containing 85.0 acres along with the "...farm, tract, piece or parcel of land...and all singular buildings and improvements" to Liston H. Webb for $8,566.88 (KCDB A11: 177). On September 10, 1981, Liston H. Webb, Sr. conveyed the property to Samuel L. Webb, Douglas Webb, Liston H. Webb, Jr., Kyle Webb, David T. Webb, James Webb, and Jackson Webb by a will and last testament. On the same day, Samuel L. Webb, Douglas Webb, Liston H. Webb, Jr., Kyle Webb, David T. Webb, James Webb, and Jackson Webb conveyed the property along with "...the dwelling house and improvements thereon erected" to Liston H. Webb, Jr., and Ruth J. Webb, trustees of the estate (KCDB N36: 241).

Evaluation: The R. Webb Property is recommended not eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places because it does not meet the eligibility criteria established by the National Park Service (NPS 1997). The resource is an example of an unremarkable and very common twentieth-century property within the SR 1 Interchange study area. The resource does not convey historical or architectural significance.

Property-specific research and documentary research of the area in general did not reveal any associations between this property and significant events or trends. The property is recommended not eligible for listing in the National Register under Criterion A for this reason. Likewise, research did not reveal any associations with significant individuals; therefore, the property is recommended not eligible for listing under Criterion B. Though it retains many original features, this dwelling is a modest example of an extremely common type. This property does not display the distinctive characteristics of a type, style, or method of construction, nor does it represent the work of a master or possess high artistic value; therefore, it is recommended not eligible under Criterion C. Archaeological investigations have not yet been conducted on this property; therefore, the resource's eligibility under Criterion D (potential to yield information important to history or prehistory) cannot be assessed at this time.
