

Today we number many but ride as one, in honor of those not with us, friends, mothers, fathers, sisters, sons. With helmets on tight and heads down low, we ride in silence, cautious and slow the wheels start spinning in the lead pack, but today we ride and no one attacks. The dark sun glances over our tears remembering those we hold so dear today's ride is to make others aware the road is there for all to share. To those not with us or by our side, may God be your partner on your final ride. Today we number many but ride as one, in honor of those not with us, friends, mothers, fathers, sisters, sons.
