PURPOSE

The Delaware Highway Memorial Garden is Delaware's only place of remembrance dedicated solely to those who have lost their lives on Delaware roadways. Likewise, the garden is the first of its type nationwide to include the names (on bricks) of those involved in all types of traffic fatalities in the state. It was designed to provide a place of tranquility for friends and families to remember loved ones, so that they may hopefully find love, peace and healing.

The garden was created in response to the many requests the Department of Transportation receives regarding the legality of the placement of roadside memorials and/or roadside signage for fatalities. Roadside memorials are illegal under Delaware's Clear Zone Act, meaning if they are placed in the clear zone (usually 10 feet on each side of the paved roadway) they must be removed to ensure public safety.

"The Memorial Garden will be just the beginning of DelDOT's attempt to decrease, and hopefully eliminate traffic fatalities in our state," - Secretary Carolann Wicks
