1. Concrete inserts may be used in new construction to attach terminal connector to parapet.
2. Guardrail section and terminal connections shall be overlapped in the direction of travel.
3. Installation shown above with an "T"-type barrier face. Guardrail section of barrier connection shall be adjusted horizontally in order to meet flush against various types of walls and barriers.