NO PARKING ZONES
Delaware's private property owners are entitled to their own parking spaces with private access. These spaces are intended to provide access to specific locations such as shops, restaurants, or homes. They are not designated for public use. Unauthorized parking in these zones is considered illegal and subject to fines.

MAKING TURNS
There are specific rules for making turns in Delaware. Generally, turns should be made from the right lane. However, there are situations where you may need to make a left turn. These exceptions are based on the specific conditions of the road and the traffic flow. Always follow the posted signs and signals for guidance.

HAND SIGNALS
Hand signals for making left turns should be given with the arm in front of you, palm facing the other vehicle. For right turns, the arm is retracted back at the side with the hand facing the other vehicle. These signals are essential for ensuring safety and proper traffic flow.

Modern Highways Historic Sites and Great Beauty

Modern highways are essential for connecting cities and towns. They provide efficient transportation and are crucial for economic growth. Historic sites, on the other hand, are valuable for preserving our heritage and providing educational opportunities.
