

PROJECT PERSONNEL

John A. Hotopp, Project Manager

Director and Principal Archaeologist, Louis Berger & Associates, Inc. B.A. in Economics and Political Science, Morris Harvey College. M.A. in Political Science, Marshall University. Ph.D. in Anthropology, University of Iowa. Twenty-four years of experience in archaeological research and administration.

Charles H. LeeDecker, Project Manager

Senior Archaeologist, Louis Berger & Associates, Inc. B.A. in Anthropology, Cornell University. M.A. in Anthropology, The George Washington University. Twenty-one years of experience in archaeological research in the Middle Atlantic and Southeast.

John Bedell, Principal Investigator, Historian

B.A. in History, Yale University. M.A. in History, Indiana University. Ph.D. in History, University of Minnesota. Ten years of experience in archaeological and historical research in the Middle Atlantic.

Lisa Adams, Field Crew

B.S. in Geography, University of Wisconsin. M.A. candidate at Eastern New Mexico University. Twelve years of experience in archaeology.

Rubi Arquiza, Laboratory Technician, Material Specialist

B.S. in Business Administration, Bloomfield College. Over five years of experience in processing, analysis, data recording and manipulation, and curation of archaeological artifacts.

Ayubu Azizi, Laboratory Technician

Six years of experience in laboratory processing of archaeological collections.

Sharla C. Azizi, Laboratory Supervisor

B.F.A. candidate, University of Houston. Thirteen years of experience in archaeology.

Charles Bedall, Field Crew

B.S. in Anthropology/Archaeology, James Madison University. Four years of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory analysis.

Bruce Bourcy, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology, State University of New York, Oswego.

Teresa Brannon, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology, State University of New York, Albany. Eight years of experience in archaeological survey and excavation.

Joelle A. Browning, Field Crew

Six years of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory analysis.

Kimber Budrow, Field Crew

Majored in Philosophy, State University of New York, Buffalo. Retired from U.S. Army with 24 years of service. Ten years of experience in archaeological research, including survey and excavation on prehistoric and historic sites.

Robert Clarke, Field Crew

B.A. in History, James Madison University. Over 10 years of experience in archaeological field and laboratory work, at technician and supervisory levels.

Andrea Denight, Field Crew

Three years of experience in archaeological survey and excavation.

Charles Dunton, Logistical Coordinator

B.S. candidate at Texas Southern University. Nine years of experience in archaeology.

Jennie Feinen, Field Crew

Over six years of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory analysis.

Ronald Feinen, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology, State University of New York, Fredonia. Two years of experience in archaeological survey and excavation.

Stephanie R. Feingold, Laboratory Technician

B.A. in History and Environmental Studies, University of Pennsylvania. One year of experience in archaeological laboratory analysis.

Stephen Fisher, Computer Programmer

B.S. in Management Information Science, Seton Hall University. Five years of experience in archaeological applications of computer database design and management.

Kevin C.P. Fitzpatrick, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology with certificate in Applied Archaeology. Five years of experience in archaeological survey and excavation.

Rowan Flad, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology, University of Chicago. Two years of experience in archaeological survey and excavation.

Amy Freyberger, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology, Upsala College. Two years of experience in archaeological survey and excavation.

Leslie Frucht, Historian

B.A. in Geography, University of Delaware. M.A. in Urban Affairs and Public Policy, College of Urban Affairs and Public Policy, University of Delaware. Eight years of experience in preservation and in research in history and architectural history.

Linda Fulcher, Editor

B.A. in History, Rutgers University. Two years of experience in the editing and production of cultural resource management reports.

David Gilmour, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology, University of Maine, Orono. Six years of experience in archaeological survey and excavation.

Mallory Gordon, Material Specialist

B.A. in Anthropology, State University of New York at Binghamton. M.A. coursework in Anthropology/Museum Studies, George Washington University, Washington, D.C. Twenty years of experience in archaeological research and curatorial work.

Jack Goudsward, Logistical Coordinator

B.A. in Sociology-Anthropology, William Paterson College. Over 10 years of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory analysis.

Adam Hellegers, Laboratory Technician

B.A. in Communications and Urban History, University of Pennsylvania. One year of experience in archaeological laboratory analysis.

Jody Holmes, Material Specialist

B.A. in Anthropology, Kenyon College. Williamsport Area Community College, Drafting. North Carolina Central University, Chemistry. Nineteen years of experience in archaeological survey and excavation, and eight years of experience in artifact analysis, the creation of research databases, and the production of NPS-ANCS data sets.

Jacqueline Horsford, Drafting Supervisor

B.S. in Geography, Pennsylvania State University. Six years of experience in drafting and cartography.

Robert Jacoby, Field Director, Field Laboratory Supervisor

B.A. in Anthropology, Northwestern University. Ph.D. candidate in Anthropology at State University of New York-Binghamton. Fifteen years of experience in archaeological survey and excavation.

Jason Janowitz, Laboratory Technician

Two years of experience in laboratory processing of archaeological collections.

Meta Janowitz, Senior Material Specialist

B.A. in Archaeology, Beloit College. M.Phil., City University of New York. Ph.D. in Anthropology, City University of New York. Twenty-two years of experience in archaeology.

Scott Jones, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology, Auburn University. Five years of experience in archaeology.

Erik Jonsberg, Laboratory Technician

B.A. in Anthropology, University of Massachusetts. Three years of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory analysis.

Suzanne Kahn, Assistant Laboratory Supervisor

B.A. in Anthropology, Franklin and Marshall College. M.A. candidate in Anthropology, Catholic University of America. Eleven years of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory analysis in the Middle Atlantic.

John Killeen, Material Specialist

B.A. in Anthropology/Archaeology, Hunter College, City University of New York. M.A. in Anthropology/Archaeology, Hunter College, City University of New York. Ph.D. candidate, Anthropology/Archaeology, The Graduate School, City University of New York. Extensive experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory analysis in the Southeast and Middle Atlantic, and in England and Ireland.

Barba Kutzner, Draftsperson

Associate Degree, Construction Drafting, Phoenix College. Over seven years of experience as a structural designer/drafter, residential designer, and facilities drafter.

Joshua Lasco, Photographic Assistant, Photographer

B.A. program in English, Seton Hall University. Six years of experience in processing, printing, and archiving photographic materials.

Linda Lipka, Drafting

DuCret School of Fine and Industrial Arts. Fifteen years of professional experience in graphic arts.

Ludomir Lozny, Laboratory Technician, Material Specialist

M.A. in Archaeology, Warsaw University. Ph.D. program in Archaeology at the City University of New York. Over 20 years of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, laboratory analysis, research, and teaching, focusing on prehistoric and historic sites in North America and Europe.

Magdalena Lozny, Laboratory Technician

M.A. in Archaeology, Warsaw University. Over 12 years of experience in archaeological fieldwork and laboratory analysis.

Nadia Maczaj, Assistant Laboratory Supervisor, Material Specialist

B.A. in History, Rutgers University. Seven years of experience in archaeology.

Christopher Marshall, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology/Archaeology, James Madison University. Over two years of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory work.

Christy Roper Morganstein, Assistant Material Specialist

B.A. in Anthropology and Archaeology, Rutgers University. Over four years of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory work.

Margaret Nash, Field Crew

Currently in undergraduate program in Anthropology at James Madison University. Six months of experience in archaeological fieldwork.

Lee Nicoletti, Production Supervisor

Business Administration at Bloomfield College. Eleven years of experience in technical report production.

Veronica Noselli, Technical Editor

B.A. in English, Syracuse University. Two years of editing experience.

Alex Ortiz, Laboratory Technician, Research Analyst

A.A. in Mathematics, Minor in Industrial Engineering, Central America University "Jose Simeon Canas", San Salvador, El Salvador, Central America. Nine years of experience in laboratory analysis and computerized analysis of artifact data.

Suzan Percy, Laboratory Technician

One year of experience in archaeological laboratory analysis.

Kim Pokorosky, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology, University of Akron. Four years of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory analysis.

Earl Proper, Field Director, Crew Chief

B.A. in Business Administration, Lenoir-Rhyne College. Seven years of experience in archaeology.

James Quinn, Field Crew

B.A. in Archaeology, Hunter College, City University of New York.

Geun-Bai John Ra, Laboratory Technician

B.A. in Anthropology, Rutgers University.

Diane Rog, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology, Youngstown State University. M.A. degree candidate in Art History, Kent State University. Over one year of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory work.

Jeffrey Rog, Field Crew

B.A. in Fine Arts, Kent State University. One year of experience in archaeological survey and excavation.

Rhea Rogers, Senior Prehistoric Material Specialist

B.A. in History, Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem, North Carolina. M.A. in Anthropology, Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Ph.D. in Anthropology, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Eleven years of experience in archaeological survey and excavation and in the processing and analysis of recovered archaeological remains.

Laurie Rudder, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology, University of Virginia. Over two years of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory work.

Gerard Scharfenberger, Laboratory Technician

Over two years of experience in archaeological field and laboratory work.

Robert Shaw, Laboratory Technician

B.A. in Anthropology and History, Newark College of Arts and Sciences, Rutgers University. One year of experience in laboratory processing of archaeological collections.

Jason Shields, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology and International Studies, American University. Four years of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory work.

Byron Simmons, Laboratory Technician, Material Specialist

Seven years of experience in the laboratory processing of archaeological collections.

Catherine Skocik, Field Crew

Over five years of experience in archaeology.

James Skocik, Field Crew

Over four years of experience in archaeology.

Barbara Slicner, Laboratory Technician

B.A. in Archaeology, University of Wroclaw. Eight years of experience in archaeological fieldwork and laboratory analysis.

Paul Stansfield, Field Crew

B.A. in Anthropology, Rutgers University. Three years of experience in archaeological fieldwork.

Rebecca Sterling, Field Crew

B.A. in Sociology/Anthropology and B.A. in Psychology, University of Akron. Over seven years of experience in archaeology on historic and prehistoric sites, in the field and laboratory.

Suzanne Szanto, Technical Editor

B.A. in English, Albertus Magnus College. Eleven years of experience in the editing and production of cultural resource management reports.

Rob Tucher, Senior Photographer

B.A. in Communications, Rutgers University. Fifteen years of experience in professional photography of archaeological subjects.

Lee Weber, Field Crew

B.A. in Sociology and Anthropology, Gettysburg College. Over six years of experience in archaeological survey, excavation, and laboratory work.

Caroline Van Dyke, Production Assistant

B.A. in Political Science, Seton Hall University. Experience in artifact analysis and cataloging, administration, public contact, editing, and report production.

Sue Wong, Laboratory Technician

Over three years of experience as an archaeological excavator and laboratory technician, on urban historic sites and in cemetery investigations.

Ingrid Wuebber, Historian, Senior Research Historian

B.A. in Archaeology, Douglass College, Rutgers University. Twelve years of experience in archaeology and historical research.