

VIII. Monitoring of Removal of Weldin Road

An archaeologist from McCormick Taylor was present during the removal of existing Weldin Road on July 28-29, 2004 to identify any archaeological features or artifacts that might have existed. No features were identified during the monitoring and the site did not appear to extend under the road. No additional work was recommended in this area.